

Qualifications

Architect

Gonzalo Martin

Architect

Gonzalo is an architect from Spain. He joined David Morley Architects in March 2014 to work on the £40 million Nottingham University David Ross Sports Village.

A graduate from the European University in Madrid, Gonzalo's shortlisted design for an international competition has been published in a number of different design magazines. His broad architectural experience in Spain and the UK ranges from small residential work to large airport designs in Russia and Philippines.

Gonzalo loves sport, especially football. He is part of the David Morley Architects' 5-a-side football team.

Relevant projects

- Nottingham University David Ross Sports Village