

Tim Waines

Architect

Having worked in and around design for most of his life Tim Graduated in 2008 with a 2:1 from The Manchester School of Architecture. He then joined MAAP where he worked on a varied range of (mainly) Medical Buildings. Being given a lot of freedom he gained a very wide range of experience until leaving the practice in 2010 to travel around South and Central America. Upon his return, he worked freelance and on personal projects across a broad spectrum of design related fields. Starting with DMA in the beginning of 2011, Tim is currently working on projects at St Bernard's Hospital in Ealing.
